Meanings of Beta, Gamma, and Sigma

Beta (B)

Beta is the initial letter of the Greek word, BEBAEOS (beb-i-os), which signifies honor. Honor is defined as personal integrity, as well as excellence of character. It is a prerequisite for those who lead others. It also encourages altruism and enlightened social responsibility and service.

Gamma (Γ)

Gamma is the initial letter of the Greek word, GNOSIS (no-sis), which signifies wisdom. Wisdom is knowledge tested by experience and tempered by discerning judgment. It avoids prejudice and insists on freedom of thought and expression. Those who are wise seek a better comprehension and a more fruitful application of what is known. They engage in a continuous quest for understanding.

Sigma (Σ)

Sigma is the initial letter of the Greek word, SPOUDE (spoo-day), which signifies earnestness. Earnestness is enthusiasm measured by achievement, reason and sincerity. It is that dynamic quality which is essential for all great achievements. Individuals who reflect earnestness inspire confidence, invite action, and generate progress.

Explanation to the Beta Gamma Sigma key Symbol

The symbol of Beta Gamma Sigma is the key. This symbol also represents our ideals of honor, wisdom and earnestness and is inscribed with the Greek letters which represent the Society's name. We ask that all members who wear this key do so with our principles in mind. We also ask that our chapters pledge themselves to uphold these principles and allow them to provide a framework in which all chapter decisions are made.
